

The Hooking Sentinel

Local and Personal.

Jim Watkins is having a steam heating apparatus put in his handsome residence on Second street.

Hon. V. C. Lowry, who has been visiting friends in Cincinnati last week, has returned home, and is busy at his law office again.

John F. White, president of the Logan Mfg. Co. left for Cincinnati yesterday when he will buy machinery for the new works.

Mr. Frank Martin, of Joe, and sister Mrs. Henry Adcock, after a month's visit among friends in Van Wert, returned home last Saturday.

Frank, son of Dr. Blosser, of our city, has been employed as teacher of telegraphy at the Reform Farm. Frank is a capable young man and will make an efficient officer.

Vern Bowen is engaged as clerk at the Rempel House, where his pleasant manners and his handy ways will bring additional delight to the guests at this popular hotel.

W. A. Lowrie, who has been visiting parents and friends in this city for the past few days, returned to New Haven, Connecticut, where he holds a lucrative position, Saturday.

John W. Streets has been awarded the contract of rebuilding the Logan Manufacturing company's works, recently destroyed by fire. The company expects to be in operation in ninety days.

The ladies fair and festival closed last night. It was a delightful social entertainment and a business success. It is regretted that the fair was not continued through the week. We hope to have interesting particulars next week.

Frank Lehman, our efficient undertaker and salesman recently in charge of the Valley Furniture Co., has accepted a position in Circleville, where he will go soon. We regret very much the going from among us of so good a citizen as Mr. Lehman, and wish him success in his new locality.

Walter Crafts, one of the most prominent iron men of the country, known to our citizens as the builder of Greendale Furnace, is one of the prominent Keelites of the country, graduating in the class of Opie Reid and other newspaper men of lesser fame, in our open letter addressed his friends, if the condition requires to follow his example.

We give up much of our valuable advertising space on the outside this week to the Commissioners Report. It is high priced matter and has preference. It pays us to print it. It pays the subscriber to read it. The report is not given in detail as most counties give it. We follow copy, and print just what we are given to print, and have nothing more to say about it.

Gen W. C. Sennitt, of Springfield (he spells his name double since his exaltation from the election) was in the city yesterday dispensing books, blessings and the light of his Grover Cleveland countenance upon the officers in the court house. "We had the pleasure of welcoming to our sanctum," no we didn't, that line is practiced matter and don't suit this occasion.

Gen. W. Bruce, who died recently in Washington City, uncle of Senator Calvin S. Bruce and Mrs. Judge Silas H. Wright, bequeathed in his will $1,000.00 to Miss Eliza Bruce Wright, the Judges youngest daughter. The many friends of Lida in her old home in Logan are glad of this token of esteem in which she was held by her distinguished relative, her mother's uncle.

Attention is called to the meeting announced elsewhere, to discuss the affairs directly relating to the Peoples Bank, and relatively of interest to every citizen of our county. We hope there will be a large meeting, and that all the embarrassments attaching to this business institution may be removed and public confidence and mutual help go hand in hand in Logan's path of prosperity.

Last Friday a show came to town. It gave its advertising to the lowest bidder; a page of it; rule and figure work, double leaded, and triple headed. It occupied more space than a merchant's Holiday Greeting or an officials report. It was a picture gallery of crime, convicts in striped clothes. Fire, blood, rape, ruin. It covered what would cost fifty dollars of space in the SENTINEL. The lowest bidder did it for two dollars. Thirteen persons, including the office dead heads and the janitor and two pea nut boys constituted the audience. Listen to my tale of woe, in poetry.

Peddlers are prowling around the country, selling groceries at wholesale prices, they say. If you read the papers, and have your senses left, you will not buy from them. They don't work their roads, they don't help build churches and school houses. Let them alone. Come and buy your goods in Logan from men you know, and can trust. We expect soon to hear the lightning rod man, the green goods fellow, the gold brick adventurer, following on the trail of the "wholesale grocery," that is if he reports fools plenty, on his route and people too smart to learn anything from the home paper.

The Ohio Central Lines have just received from the Pullman Car Co., five of this company's finest day coaches for their through trains. They are cherry red in color, handsomely lettered and striped in gilt, equipped with the Gould automatic coupler, and continuous platform. The interior presents the latest design in car construction, finished in natural cherry. The ornamentation, carving and upholstery is elaborate, though tasteful. Large plate mirrors adorn the front and rear ends. The present management is being highly commended in their efforts to provide for their patrons, service second to none.—Charleston Gazette.

The patrons are urged to visit the schools frequently and to inspect the work. Dr. Thompson of Miami University says, that the parents do not encourage the teachers of the Public Schools as much as it is their duty to do. They should visit and learn to know the teachers of their children. It is apparent that both teachers and pupils are working faithfully to accomplish the object of the schools, viz: to develop high ideals of character.

HOLIDAY GREETINGS.

MERRY GO ROUND is the bright, round silver dollar. One day last week we dropped into the First bank just to try how good it makes a penniless planter feel in the midst of abundance. We found Cashier Rogers occupied fastening with sealing wax, a half peck of something. We thought it at first some not prominent and even in his hands, intending to exhibit the turnips, or what it was, to the farmers looking in. To our surprise we learned that the seal contained one thousand dollars, weighed sixty pounds, and was part of the silver deposit for the week past. We were, as our readers are anxious to know what was going to be done with the precious bank, so we inquired holding the money. This we learned. The weekly deposits of silver from the business men of our city, one thousand dollars. This seal, when filled, is taken to the express office and back to the bank. It is shipped to the Sub Treasury in Cincinnati, where it is placed in the reserve vault. How low, you think, if the shipmen, continue to fill money, silver or money, becomes scarce? This is the way. The banks or columns draw upon Cincinnati. The silver is shipped to Chicago and the operation is repeated. The men are paid. They buy goods from the stores of Logan, where advertisements have attracted them. The merchants deposit the money, and in goes a merry round, bringing cheer and happiness in every home. There is a small margin. He is a braggart or a candle, fruits, cars, etc., and give special prices to teachers and other purchasing in quantities for the holiday trade. Goods delivered to any part of the city.

C. TIPPON, at the East End, has the lightest and brightest corner in the city, light as day by night, and bright as night by day. His electric lights, though brilliant beyond comparison with other days and nights illuminate his store to show his vast stock of goods he keeps on hand for his customers. He always has what you want. His goods are of the best. By close attention to business, buying prudently and for cash, he can always afford to sell at a small margin.
